Pasilio's 1st class rugby career started as a loose forward for Southland province in 2018. He played a total of 7 games for them. His club was Marist.

He was transformed into a prop and then moved to Bay of Plenty province for the 2021 season. As at the end of 2024 he has played 24 games & scored 3 tries. His club is Greerton Marist.

He caught the eye of the Hurricanes and was offered a contract with them from 2022. Since then he has played 26 games & scored 3 tries. (Plus another 8 games in 2025.)

In 2024 he became All Black No 1,219, playing his first test against Fiji, off the bench.

All his tests have been at prop, usually at tighthead (behind Tyrel Lomax). However he has the ability to play either side of the scrum. He played in 7 tests in 2024, one as a starter, & scored 1 try.

Altogether in his short 1st class career he has played 64 games & scored 7 tries.
